Zoning Ordinance to Govern Building in Unincorporated Area

Regulations governing building lines on all streets and highways in unincorporated territory henceforth are to be governed by a master zoning ordinance with amendments, according to the county regional planning commission.

The new method operates similar to the plan for establishment of zoning districts. A master building line ordinance is adopted, and from time to time as new districts are covered by new building lines, an amendment is made to the master ordinance by adding a new section. The ordinance is accompanied by a map, and these maps show the exact distance buildings must be kept from property lines. It is explained, therefore, a separate ordinance has been adopted in establishing building lines for a street.

OLD HOME TO BE MUSEUM

Home Made Candies Make Delectable Christmas Gift

One of the very nicest things about Christmas is the thought that we give to it—the little things that we plan to make it a happy and festive occasion. Money has really very little to do with giving Christmas its charm. Compare, for example, the most extravagant and dazzling Christmas tree covered with store ornaments with the tree trimmed at home with cranberries strung by tiny eager fingers, home-made cornucopias crammed with popcorn that looks so merry because it had such a merry time in the popping, and home-made candies that smelled so good when they were cooking.

Make some Christmas candy at home this year, regardless of how much more you may buy in the stores, and you will find that the home-made assortments will be the priceless holiday candy which you bring out on special occasions. There are lots of kinds that are simple to make but most effective when they are seen and tasted. You can make festive little "plum pudding" candies to be wrapped in squares of shiny Christmas paper and tied with red ribbons so that they can swing from the boughs of the tree; caramels wrapped in waxed paper to go, along with nuts and other goodies, into Christmas stockings, and delectable cream candies to be put into little favor baskets for Christmas dinners and luncheons as well as to fill pretty gift or guest boxes.

Attractive Containers Attractive containers for these candies may be made at home at almost no expense. A round tin box, for instance, may be painted some gay color with quick-drying paint and "Merry Christmas to Ted" or "John" or whoever the lucky recipient is, written in your own handwriting with a brush and black paint. Tied with silver or gold ribbon and filled with cream candies, some of which are wrapped in silver or gold foil, this is a welcome personal gift. For the various members of the family, make individual cornucopias out of glazed chintz in different patterns. Line them with lace paper and tie them to the boughs of the tree with red or green tulle ribbon. And now for the candies:

Christmas Yule Logs: Boil to 234 degrees, without stirring, one and one-half cups of sugar, one-half cup of maple syrup, one-half cup of evaporated milk and one tablespoon butter. Cool to 140 degrees, add one-half teaspoon maple flavoring and beat until creamy. Form into small balls in palms of hands, then roll between palms into little log-like sticks. Dip each in maple syrup and roll in either chocolate shot or in grated sweet chocolate, covering thickly.

Plum Puddings: Melt one square of chocolate, add two tablespoons of butter, then add three cups brown sugar, one cup of evaporated milk, one teaspoon lemon juice and the grated rind of one-half lemon. Boil to 238 degrees, cool to 140 degrees, and beat until creamy. Add one-fourth cup chopped nuts, one-fourth cup chopped candied cherries, two tablespoons chopped dates and two tablespoons chopped citron. Form into small balls. When cold, place each ball on a small square of shiny Christmas paper, bring corners up together and tie with a tiny red baby ribbon.

Vanilla Cream Caramels: Combine one cup sugar, two-thirds cup light corn syrup, the contents of one 14-ounce can of condensed milk and one cup cream, and boil to 246 degrees, or the firm ball stage, stirring to prevent burning. Add one teaspoon vanilla, and pour into a buttered pan. Let stand until cold, remove the whole slab of candy to a board, and cut into squares. Wrap in oiled paper, if desired. This makes one and one-eighth pounds of candy.

Mocha Opera Creams: Melt two squares of chocolate, add two cups sugar, three-fourths cup evaporated milk, one-fourth cup very strong coffee and one tablespoon butter. Bring to boiling. Add one-eighth teaspoon cream of tartar, and boil to 234 degrees, beat until creamy. Add one-fourth cup chopped nuts, one-fourth cup chopped candied cherries, two tablespoons chopped dates and two tablespoons chopped citron. Form into small balls. When cold, place each ball on a small square of shiny Christmas paper, bring corners up together and tie with a tiny red baby ribbon.

Transcontinental Travel Costs Cut For Xmas Traffic

Expected to stimulate travel between California and many eastern states, low Christmas holiday excursion fares have been authorized by the Southern Pacific Company, according to announcement made here today.

The west bound holiday rates from cities in the east to California destinations are now in effect and will continue until December 22. These tickets have a return limit of January 25, permitting eastern residents to remain with relatives and friends in this state until well after the holiday season, it was pointed out.

Eastbound, the Christmas rates will be in effect from California cities December 10 and December 16 to 22, inclusive, to many eastern destinations. Persons taking advantage of these fares to visit former homes and friends living east of the Rockies will have until midnight January 15 to complete the return trip.

Increased BUYING POWER of the dollar justifies the return to normal spending

THOUGHTFUL PEOPLE all over California are returning to normal buying habits—and they are getting some of the greatest values of their lives. Building materials, automobiles, clothing, food stuffs and high grade merchandise of every kind are being sold at temptingly low prices.

Now is the time to take full advantage of the increased purchasing power of the dollar, stimulate every line of business, and return the unemployed to their jobs... Even reduced incomes are balanced by corresponding reductions in the prices of nearly all commodities. There is no excuse for not satisfying one's normal needs... Prosperity depends largely upon both banked and expended money. Until idle money circulates freely, unemployment will continue to be with us. The return of good times is strictly up to each one of us... Think it over.
